Improvement Club Elects Officers

The annual meeting of the Barton Improvement Club was held Tuesday evening and the following elections were made: President, C. S. Webster; secretary, C. C. Cassidy; treasurer, C. C. Cassidy; trustees, (new) C. H. Willard, G. L. Bartlett; auditors, C. A. Barrows, F. W. Cutting.

The secretary's report showed a gain in membership of about 50 for the year and the treasurer's statement revealed a liquidation of some over $350 indebtedness.

The club starts the new year with a membership of nearly 100 with several applications on the board and with the idea of attempting to continue along the same lines of getting more new business and to encourage the development of what we now have.

The question of baseball was discussed, and real progress was made in the selection of C. C. Cassidy as manager, whose success with the team last year makes the outlook for the present season bright.

Mr. Cassidy requests all those who will try to make the team to meet at the Club rooms Friday evening when it is hoped to elect a captain.

"So Long, Mary."

One of the most interesting announcements that has been made in a long time is that arrangements have been made with O. E. Wee and E. J. Carpenter for an engagement of their noted laughing success, "So Long, Mary."

"So Long, Mary," the dates are positively set for Monday, April 26, at Orleans and Friday, April 30 at Barton.

"So Long, Mary," is a sprightly breezy comedy with music, full of pep, speed, laughter and jazz, tripping and caroling lightly to gay tunes by some of America's most popular composers.

The music is of the sort one whistles and sings. James Kennedy and Rose Kessner two of the funniest people on the English speaking stage, head the list of funmakers. Seats are on sale at Austin's drug store, Orleans, and at Pierce's store in Barton.

Frank R. Buck.

The death of Frank R. Buck occurred at his late home on Prospect street Friday afternoon. Mr. Buck was taken sick the last of February with what appeared to be the grippe. After a few weeks' sickness it was thought best to take him to Brightlook hospital, St. Johnsbury, for examination, the result of which showed that he was suffering from liver trouble, which had reached that stage that medical skill could not cure. He was brought to his home and everything was done to make him comfortable the remainder of his days. He failed very rapidly the last two days of his sickness and his sudden death was a shock to his friends.

Funeral services were held at his late home on Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, the Rev. J. H. Hutcheson, pastor of the Congregational church officiating. The bearers were Homer C. Potter, Harry G. Perley, C. L. Erwin and Russell Humphrey. H. T. Seaver acted as conductor. Mr. Perley sang for a solo "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere." The house was filled with relatives and friends of the deceased. A large number of beautiful flowers testified to the sympathy of the loved ones.

The body was laid to rest in the family lot in the Welcome O. Brown cemetery.

Mr. Buck was the son of Reuben Buck and Lizzie Taylor of Berkshire, being born July 25, 1868, and was 54 years, eight months and 22 days of age at time of death. He remained 14 years of age when he went to Manchester, N. H., and began work in the Amoskeag mills. On May 31, 1894 he was united in marriage to Anna Cobb of Morgan, making their home in Manchester, N. H., for 19 years, coming to Barton in the year 1913 to make a home for Mrs. Buck's father, William Cobb, the death of his wife having since Mr. Buck was employed by E. R. Cook, also at the tub factory, but for the past three years has worked in the Parker & Young factory at Orleans. He was a member of the Congregational church and for two years was superintendent of the Sunday school. He was a kind husband and father, respected and loved by all who knew him, a man of good habits and a clean, Christian character.

Of the broken family circle there remains his wife, Anna Buck, two sons, Malcolm, aged 23, and Robert, aged 11; one daughter, Helen, aged 18; also one sister, Mrs. M. B. Olzendam, of Gloverville, N. Y., and one half brother, William P. Buck of Manchester, N. H. Those from out of town to attend the funeral were Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Humphrey and Russell of Newport, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Bartlett of Newport Center, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Potter of Orleans and George Cummings of Bradford.

CARD—We wish in this way to convey our appreciations and thanks to our friends and neighbors for the beautiful flowers and the many kind deeds during the sickness and death of our loved one. May Heaven's richest blessing be your reward.

Mrs. Anna Buck, Malcolm Buck, Helen Buck, Robert Buck.

County Agent Johnson Resigns.

H. F. Johnson, Orleans county agricultural agent, has resigned his position as such and accepted a like position with the New London county, Connecticut, organization with headquarters at Norwich, and is expecting to leave Newport for his new field of labor about May 10.

Mr. Johnson has done valuable service for the Orleans County Farm Bureau which numbers about 550 and it is to be regretted that he is to make this change. The work that he has been doing cannot be taken up by a new agent without a temporary loss to the Farm Bureau and it is hoped that arrangements may yet be made whereby he may be prevailed to continue his work in this county.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnson have been closely identified with the life of the community and have made a host of friends who will be very sorry to have them leave town.

$181,526 FOR COUNTY ROADS

Survey for Federal Work Between Orleans and Coventry Complete.

Hon. Stoddard S. Bates of Derby, state highway commissioner, and Fred Dudley, district commissioner of Orange county, met the road officials, selectmen and road commissioners of Orleans county in the Pastime hall, Newport, Thursday, April 15. More than 100 were present including several officials from other counties. The meeting was opened and roll called by A. B. Cobleigh, district commissioner of Orleans county.

Mr. Bates was the principal speaker of the occasion and held the closest attention of the audience while he presented some of the problems that are confronting those who have the building and upkeep of the roads throughout the state.

The bridge question is one of the largest problems confronting those who are in charge of the highways at the present time mainly on account of the increased use in the past few years of heavy trucks, which is expected to increase more and more in the years to come. This is a fact it will be necessary to rebuild many bridges and to build better and stronger ones. He said that in the past four years between 250 and 300 bridges had been built in the state and urged cement construction of bridges whenever possible.

Mr. Bates spoke at some length of how the federal government was aiding the state in road building. He said that $1,244,000 was the allotment from the national treasury to Vermont for road work for a five year period and thought in due time that the federal government would maintain certain roads as federal roads, while others would be state roads and still others town roads. One hundred and one federal trucks that were either used or built for war purposes have been given to the state to be used in road building, many of which are new. Eighty-seven of them have already arrived and are stored at Montpelier in a new garage that cost $75,000. These trucks are not equipped for road use until they are provided with bodies. These trucks will be rented to the several towns at a rental of $5 per day by the state highway department, the town to pay for the oil and gasoline and also the wages of the driver, which the state will furnish.

Mr. Bates is thoroughly alive to the needs of the state in handling the tremendous highway problem and his talk imparted valuable information to county road workers.

Following the meeting of road commissioners in Pastime hall a banquet given by the Chamber of Commerce and the selectmen of the county in the Congregational church dining room. It was prepared by a committee of 36 ladies of the Social Union, under the chairmanship of Mrs. C. J. Oben and Mrs. George Gilchrist. McCauley's orchestra furnished music during the banquet. The 14 tables were all set and every seat was taken, making a total of 156 persons served. Sixteen waitresses dressed in white assisted in the serving. The most delicious and attractively served menu consisted of tomato soup, cold roast pork and dressing, brown gravy and mashed potato scallop, perfection salad and hot rolls, coffee, doughnuts, pickles, apple pie and ice cream, cigars.

Following the banquet President Wilcox of the Chamber of Commerce presided over short post prandial exercises. He warmly welcomed the men to Newport and expressed a wish that there was a county organization which would often bring the representative citizens of the county together. He explained that Mayor Gardner was sick or would otherwise be there to talk to the gathering.

He called upon Commissioner Bates who explained more about the federal money and its expenditure. He said the money allotted Vermont had been divided for the various counties and the allotment for Orleans county was $181,526 to be spent over a five year period. He also stated that a survey had been completed of the road from the Bailey four corners on the Coventry-Orleans road to Orleans village, thus completing a federal road between these two places. The survey has not yet been accepted by the government but there is every reason to believe it will be done.

Mr. Bates said a great difference between what the travelers say of the roads now and 15 years ago is surprising. Then everyone saw the good pieces of road and spoke of them. Now everyone sees the bad places and talks of them.

He said Orleans county voted more money this year for road work, to be matched by the state, than any other county in Vermont.

State Engineer MacIntosh spoke briefly about his work and its growth in three years. Ninety different projects had been surveyed and specifications made for contract work in the past season.

Toastmaster Wilcox then called upon C. S. Emery, referring to him as the next governor. Mr. Emery spoke of the importance of our roads and said he did not believe there was a county in the state where there was such unity of thought and action as here in Orleans county.

The Great Church Movement

Mr. Baldwin Opposes.

A Reply.

Mr. Editor:—

If you will kindly allow me space in your valuable paper I desire to state why, at this time, I am not in favor of the Interchurch World Movement, so-called, just being put on.

1st. It is uncertain what is going to be done with this money—if they succeed in obtaining it. The drive for $5,000,000 to pension aged ministers, otherwise called the "Pilgrim Memorial Fund," was hardly started before another drive was started for $50,000 claiming it was to be used for missions and educational institutions.

In the Congregationalist and Advance for April 1, 1920, Rev. John O. Thrush, pastor of the Congregational church in River Falls, Wis., asked this question, "Is this so-called 'Drive' set for April or May, explain just what this money is intended for, whether for missions, educational work, or to pay the expenses of the Interchurch Movement?" The editor of this paper made this answer: "The drive beginning in April is intended for missions and educational institutions. In our own denomination it is an extra and emergency campaign. The expenses of the Interchurch Movement will naturally come out of the campaign." The "extra and emergency campaign" spoken of above, in Vermont, I learn from the "The Vermont Missionary," extra No. 6, will be $20,000. This amount will be expended as follows: To assist small communities which are unable to provide religious services for themselves; to assist small needy churches; to finance the annual training meeting for ministers which has been held at Middlebury in the past; and provide a fund for $1000 "to be at the disposal of the executives." In the past the Middlebury ministers training meeting has been taken care of by the Vermont Domestic Missionary society which in 1919 had endowment funds amounting to $91,005.20. In the Congregationalist for March 25, 1920, said paper states: "The Interchurch World Movement, has voted to devote $6,000 to the establishment of four hospitals for incurables, to be located in Massachusetts, Missouri, Ohio and Virginia." I am informed upon good authority, that $3,000,000 of the $50,000,000 is to be devoted toward the "Pilgrim Fund" to pension aged ministers. I cannot exactly see how these last, could be called missionary purposes or educational institutions.

2nd. It is not right at this time to call upon the Congregational churches in Vermont for this large sum of $130,000. Dr. L. C. Warner, Chairman Congregational World Movement Commission, in the Congregationalist, of March 25, says: "I plan to put on another large Congregational movement during the present year is meeting with considerable criticism from some of our churches. We must acknowledge at the outset that there is some reasonable ground for this criticism. We are just completing the Pilgrim Memorial Fund, the largest financial enterprise ever carried through by our churches and our people do not feel

2d. Mr. Baldwin says, "it is not right," setting his opinion over the opinion of the leaders of Congregationalism in Vermont and the vast majority of adherents, with reference to the state quota. As to the quoted statement of Dr. Warner, I am unwilling to believe that Mr. Baldwin intended to leave such an erroneous impression as to Dr. Warner's standing in this matter as his quotation, ending in the middle of a sentence would indicate. I consider the quotation unfair to Mr. Warner and the movement. The article is commended to all who desire to post themselves upon the grand scope and benefit of the movement, and I will be glad to loan the

There is not time, space or need of going into details again about the great Orleans county drive this paper and the others published by Gilpin, Hunt & Co. Inc., are putting on for the benefit of the boys and girls. In brief it is a campaign to raise boys and girls club work, the benefits of which are recognized by everyone.

Just how the county is waking up to this campaign is attested by the following list of pledges and payments made since the last report. Every mail now contains pledges to this fund, which is growing by leaps and bounds. But there are only about 10 days left in which to reach the goal. Will you get in now and help? If your contribution can only be a small one, don't think it will be unwelcome. We prefer many small gifts to a few large ones. The question now is, will you follow suit or pass? Here is a splendid representative list of Orleans county people. Let us add your name next week.
